Description

You feel beautiful, secretive and sinful within the welcoming, almost sleepy red lights of Cherry Red. The uber-hip lighting and attitude is nicely counteracted with a sprawling, multileveled layout featuring tons of seating, giving it a somewhat loungey feel. "It's like the whole bar is one big VIP room," one fan raves, while others aren't quite as comfortable with the post-college crush that frequents the joint (Wicker Park hipsters probably would be advised to stay close to where they're comfortable.)

The fairly uninspired food includes wraps, pizzas and salads. Many guests cheer for the polite and friendly bartenders, who could easily cop an attitude in such a cooler-than-thou-looking club. Dance on the weekends to house and techno, or just chill with friends on the quieter weekdays.

Check out their private parties, too; when they collaborate with the Honeysuckle Shop, ladies (sorry, gents, you're not invited) are welcome to imbibe free champagne and fine chocolates as they scope the 'toys.' (Claire Zulkey)
